The campaign which was to have begun at the end of March has been postponed, for technical reasons, until the end of April. It is being joined to the First of May campaign. Since many arrests may be expected for the eve of the First of May, the campaign will therefore begin before that date, from April 20th onwards. In this way it is hoped that repressive measure by the police will be thwarted. The appeal should be broadcast by foreign radio stations about April 25th. It might then be repeated, together with a commentary, on May 1st. The two points to be stressed are the following:

1. The watchword: "The war is lost but Italy can still save herself".
2. Intensification of the Civil Disobedience campaign.
